

WHAT IS AGROECOLOGY?

OPEN LESSON BY PROFESSOR MIGUEL ALTIERI

Emeritus Professor from Berkeley University (California)

March 28th, 2023
CET h. 2-4 pm (UTC+1)

to partecipate on Zoom
CLICK HERE

Interview and lecture of Prof. Miguel Altieri

Emeritus Professor from Berkeley University (California)

at Pavia University for the first year course in Agroecology and Biodiversity Conservation
Master in Agri-Food Sustainability

Miguel Altieri is a Chilean born agronomist and entomologist. He is a Professor of Agroecology at the University of California, Berkeley in the Department of Environmental Science, Policy and Management.

Altieri served as a Scientific Advisor to the Latin American Consortium on Agroecology and Development (CLADES) Chile, an NGO network promoting agroecology as a strategy for small farm sustainable development in the region.

He also served for 4 years as the General Coordinator for the United Nations Development Programme's Sustainable Agriculture Networking and Extension Programme which aimed at capacity building on agroecology among NGOs and the scaling-up of successful local sustainable agricultural initiatives in Africa, Latin America and Asia.

Altieri is the author of more than 200 publications and more than a dozen books.

For more information on the master's programme

<https://agrifood.cdl.unipv.it/en>

The new Master's Programme to train the experts in food system of tomorrow.